32 x 24 feet, two-story, of long 12" x 7" logs, this church sits in a glenn near thehead of Stony Creek. It was built by the 19 families who first worshipped in it. Logs and lumber came from the area. The logs were hewn, then corners were notched and fitted as the building was raised. The cracks were partly filled with large chips, then daubed with limed clay inside and out. High cherry pulpit. Seats are slat-backed benches.

b. Style/Period Log

c. Dates 1835

This is one of the three old log churches in Pocahontas Co. Often called the "Old Log Church" it was named Hamlin Chapel in honor of the son of the man who gave the land for the church. All the work of hewing logs, shaving shingles, notching and fitting corners was done by the hands of people of record. From 1884 to 1907 Presbyterians met there each month. The chapel is now used for special services such as Easter, Community music programs, homecomings, etc.

1. Name(s) Historic/Common: W. M. - L. D. Sharp Buildings Complex
   1. W. M. Sharp Log House
   2. L. D. Sharp Home
   3. Sharp's Country Store
   4. Old Cellar House

1. The William Sharp (1815-1888) Log Home is located behind Sharp's Country Store, Slaty Fork, W. Va. Fireplace, rock chimney, stairs to loft where boys slept, and old original cook kettles for fireplace are still there. Robert E. Lee ate supper here one night when he was visiting his soldiers at Linwood. Needs some restoration.

2. The L. D. Sharp (1872-1963) Home, 3-story, built about 1916, is the present residence of his son, Si Sharp. It has eleven bedrooms, dining room, kitchen with six doors, parlor, living room, enclosed sleeping porch, pantry, one and a half baths, basement, outside porch extending over half way around house, two first to second floor stairways, living room and kitchen completely sealed with narrow tongue and grooved boards. All other first floor rooms and halls are wainscoted with the same wood. All lumber in house was cut on the farm and kiln-dried, planed, shaped, etc. on the premices. Spring fed water pipe to the dairy or milk house helped keep milk cool. A Delco 32 volt plant supplied electricity for lights in the house.

3. The Sharp's Country Store, built about 1928 when the new road was built, has had the U.S. Post Office in it for several years. The first four gasoline pumps were the tall hand pumped pumps that had 10 gallon glass cylinders at the top. A 32 volt Delco electric plant was used for several years to supply lights until the West Penn came through.

4. The "Old Cellar House" with upstairs granary was built about 1850-1860 by William Sharp. The cellar part is made of cut stone. The upper two floors are wood. A carpenter's bench and wood vice is on the first floor where Captain Mundy did wood work when he visited Hugh Sharp.

The four original chimneys provided for three fireplaces or a flue opening in each room. One fireplace is of black marble with matching mantel, two fireplaces are of marble design small tiles with matching hearths - all used with grates.

A rounded wall section between reception hall and living room is a unique feature. Two sets of large panelled double doors between three rooms are pocket doors. Door facings are wide, fluted design, with transoms above all first floor doors.

Front stairway was replaced by second owner with solid oak pannelled side and stairway of 19 steps - 6" risers. Over this stairway from wall to wall is a rectangular decorative wood fretwork. Parquet flooring was installed in three rooms.

The third owner added bathrooms in two back dormer areas on second floor in providing two rental apartments. 1940

Front steps to porch altered in 1966.

Slate roof replaced with fiberglass shingles in color as close to slate grey as possible. 1974

They used black walnut and white oak logs to construct it. The plate logs, on which the rafters set, were hewed out of black walnut logs. They were made 18" square and 30' long and are as sound as when they were placed there.

Built by John McNeel who settled in the area in the late 1700's. He was in the militia in Capt. John Stuart's Co. of Greenbrier Volunteers, Botetout County Regiment. He took part in the battle of Point Pleasant on Oct. 10, 1774. McNeel family is very prominent in the county and the farm is still in their name. John McNeel died in 1825.
